Parents support lunch in schools

By BILL JACOBS

Headteachers in East Lancashire have said they support research that children under 16 should not be allowed to leave school at lunchtimes.

A study by the Local Authorities Catering Association found most parents want their children to stay in school at lunchtime to stop them buying unhealthy snacks and takeaways.

The study also discovered the majority of parents believe healthy food standards should apply to all schools, including academies. Heads in the area agreed the majority of children should be at school for lunch. And even schools which let sixth-form and Year 11 pupils leave the grounds tried to ensure they had healthy meals on site before heading out for a break.

Local academy heads also said their schools maintained the high standards of meals they had before getting semi-independent status.

David Burton, head of Sir John Thursby Community College for 11 to 16-year-olds, in Burnley, said: "We do not let our children leave the school at lunchtime for sensible safety and healthy eating reasons. There is a lot to do on site."

JANET WALSH

Colne Primet High head Janet Walsh said: "Only our 16-year-olds are allowed out as a privilege to visit local shops, including a chippy. Many stay on site where there is a great deal to do and we offer a wide range of healthy meals."

The study, by LACA, which represents catering managers, is based on a survey of more than 12,000 parents. The findings show three in four parents in favour of secondary school pupils, up to 16, being kept on school premises for safety, and to stop visits to takeaways and shops. A further third would like to see sixth-formers also kept on site.

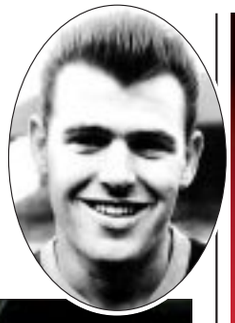
Legends pay tribute to a soccer great



CLARETS STAR: John Connelly in his younger days

By CHRIS FLANAGAN

Footballing greats came from far and wide to bid farewell to a Burnley legend.

Around 500 people packed into St Mary's RC Church, Yorkshire Street, on Monday, for the funeral of John Connelly, who passed away at the age of 74 on October 25.

Among them were family, friends, fans, and famous faces from the world of football.

Sir Bobby Charlton, Jimmy McIlroy, Nobby Stiles, Bryan Douglas, Denis Law, Roger Hunt and Norman Hunter were just some of the stars to form a guard of honour for a man who was part of England's World Cup winning squad in 1966, as well as representing Burnley, Manchester United, Blackburn Rovers and Bury with distinction.

They came to recognise not only the winger's footballing talent, which played a key part in Burnley's march to the First Division title in 1960, but also to pay tribute to a true gentleman.

"The church was packed for the right reasons. He was just a marvellous human being and I was proud to know him," Charlton said.

His former team-mates gathered at Turf Moor before making the short walk to the church behind the funeral cortege. Supporters also lined the street outside the ground to pay their respects.

A floral tribute in the design of a football accompanied the coffin of a man who devoted his life to the sport. In a touching written eulogy Connelly's wife of 52 years, Sandra, said: "The legacy you leave behind is one of love, faith and respect."

During the funeral family members paid their tributes.

"For people to say he was a nice bloke and a gentleman, that's a heck of an epitaph," said brother Jimmy.

Connelly, who was suffering from bone cancer and died peacefully in Barrowford with his family around him, leaves children Nicola, Debra and Jonathan, as well as seven grandchildren.

He had a private burial in Barrowford. After growing up in St Helens, he made 265 appearances for Burnley between 1956 and 1964, scoring 105 goals, and ran a fish and chip shop in Brierfield after retiring,

Among those present on Monday were ex-Clarets Willie Irvine, Andy Lochhead, Jimmy Robson, Trevor Meredith, Brian Pilkington, Brian Flynn, Paul Fletcher, Mick Buxton, Ian Brennan, Brian O'Neil, Mick Docherty, Mike Phelan and Steve Kindon, who described Connelly as 'a legend'.

Also in attendance was Burnley director Barry Kilby, the club's former chairman. "He was one of my heroes," Kilby said. "He was a very modest man and a decent human being."

FAREWELL: Former team mates Denis Law and Sir Bobby Charlton were among those paying their respects to John Connelly

Last sermon after 25 years and 3 churches

BIRTHDAY FAREWELL: John Lancaster

By TYRONE MARSHALL

Vicar John walked in Jesus's footsteps in the Middle East

A Barnoldswick vicar who went from studying metals to preaching is retiring after serving three West Craven churches for more than 25 years.

The Rev John Lancaster was appointed vicar of Holy Trinity and St Mary-le-Ghyll CofE Church, in Barnoldswick, and St Michael's Church, Bracewell, on March 17, 1986.

Before his appointment he had spent 13 years as a metallurgist, someone who studies the physical and chemical behaviour of metallic elements.

He retired on Tuesday – the day of his 65th birthday – and took farewell services at all three churches on Sunday morning.

"I was inducted on St Patrick's Day by the Rt Rev Roy Williamson, Bishop of Bradford, who was a proud Irishman," said Mr Lancaster.

"He likened the three Barnoldswick churches to a three-leaf clover and my job was to make them one clover. Since I've been vicar, we've come together and I think I've accomplished the task he set me.

"Life in Barnoldswick has been good. I'm going to miss the people. Over this period of time, I've become involved in people's life stories.

"The things I won't miss are the calls at nine o'clock in the morning on a bank holiday from people who want to book a wedding. And I shan't miss the paperwork either."

Mr Lancaster said that he and his wife, Sue, had been through a lot together with the parish over the years.

"There have been some interesting and exciting times," he said. "I'll remember the adaptation of Holy Trinity to create a hall at the back, the repair and installation of new bells at Ghyll and an organ overhaul and work on the village hall at Bracewell."

He also said some of the more memorable moments included 'In the footsteps of Jesus' trips to the Middle East countries of Jordan, Israel and Syria. "It was interesting to enable the Bible to come alive in a different way," he said.

And Mr Lancaster will always remember the kindness of the Syrian people who went out of their way to arrange for his wife to make an abrupt return to UK to be with his two-year-old granddaughter who contracted meningitis while the couple were on a trip with parishioners in 2000.

'Committed' special people win police praise

Dedicated volunteers who give up their free time to work as special constables have been praised by police chiefs.

Members of Lancashire Police Authority (LPA) have praised the county's 358 special constables who bring 'significant and much valued assistance' to neighbourhood policing teams.

'INDEBTED': Bruce Jassi

LPA chairman Bruce Jassi said: "We are indebted to these committed volunteers who give up, on average, 28 hours of their own time every month which they spend on duty helping to make our communities safer."

Commenting on a progress report to the LPA about specials, he said: "A review of the specials in 2010 led to a number of recommendations, including additional training, tutoring and support. The progress made since then has resulted in greater effectiveness and efficiency on every level, making a considerable difference to our neighbourhoods."

Vision of community garden

Plans for planting and pruning

By TYRONE MARSHALL

An unused and unattractive garden area in Colne looks set to be rejuvenated under a new scheme.

Councillors in Colne want to breath new life into the garden area, in Burnley Road, and four schemes have been put forward.

A scheme would cost between £10,000 and £28,000, depending on which one councillors choose, but funding would have to be found for the work.

Kieron Roberts, principal development officer in parks and recreation at Pendle Council, said: "The site is currently managed, and maintained, by parks and recreation. There is currently no budget to carry out these one-off works, and money would have to be found to carry out any of the works.

IMPROVEMENTS: The garden in Burnley Road

"With all options, parks will prune back the overgrown shrubs and trees, and possibly plant new, remove all dead wood, turf over the two existing rose beds, repair the wooden fence, repair and paint the main entrance, and realign the steps.

"These works would be done as part of parks and recreation's winter maintenance work.

"At present, the site is not accessible for wheelchair users. Although the proposed options will improve the paths in the garden area, there is no provision for wheelchair users."

He added: "In each of the options presented, there are a number of raised timber beds. The idea would be to get the different organisations to look after individual beds and the site as a community garden."

Repairs on historic hall access road to begin

Work to improve the main road access to Towneley Hall and Park in Burnley has taken place.

Coun John Harbour, Burnley Council's executive member for leisure and culture, said the end result was worth the disruption caused.

He said: "This resurfacing work is an essential part of the regular maintenance of one of the most popular parks in the North West.

"Visitors will notice an immediate improvement and it's just the latest in a long series of investments aimed at making a visit to Towneley Hall and Park an even better experience.

"We apologise for the temporary disruption this work caused but it's only for a few days and I'm sure everyone will agree it was worth it once the work is done."

Jobless get tempted with ticket to ride

By PETE MAGILL

Free bus travel is being promised to young jobseekers and would-be students in Lancashire as part of a £1million education initiative.

Nearly 3,000 youngsters not currently in employment, education or training — the county's so-called NEETs — could benefit from the passes.

This is the estimated figure, countywide, of those 16 to 18-year-olds who have 'slipped through the net' and need direction.

Young people will be able to apply for four-weekly bus passes for their local area — in return for a commitment that they work with their local young people's service to further their education or job-hunting work.

The passes will be available from December and trials of the scheme are expected to last until at least next March.

County councillor Susie Charles, cabinet member for young people, said in a report that transport was a 'determining factor' on young people's ability to secure employment or training.

"Unemployed young people are often inexperienced in work and as such planning a journey can be problematic for some, who may struggle asking for advice or understanding basic instructions," she said.

"Employers do not accept transport as their responsibility and expect employees to attend their workplace on time. It is therefore important to sort out transport plans in advance of the person taking up employment."

NEET FACTOR: Susie Charles

If every one of the 2,918 eligible for the scheme take it up then the cost will be £736,640. Earlier this year the county council allocated £1million for work to reduce the number of NEETs in Lancashire.

Council officials are in talks with bus operators about the prospect of offering discounted travel to those aged up to 18 beyond March.

Police give out winter crime safety advice

Crime safety advice is being offered to residents in East Lancashire.

Officers are reminding householders to check lighting, security and to brush up on those good habits that may have been relaxed during the summer.

A Lancashire Police spokesman said: "Crime levels, including burglary figures, are low across Lancashire but it is important that homeowners don't become complacent.

"With the dark nights upon us, now is an ideal time to double check security and lighting and make sure that your home is adequately protected."

Residents are urged to make sure doors and windows are locked and secure before leaving home, put house and car keys away safely, leave lights on and curtains shut when going out.

Horoscopes with Claire Petulengro

Aries March 21st-April 20th

Jealousy on Sunday could lead you to say things you regret. Caution please Aries. You may want to slow down a work matter that relates to finances, there is still much you have to learn before you sign away your money or your name. Don't judge a new face in your friend's life too rashly, time will reveal all you need to know, so cool it for now. Call my starline for news on your love life now.

Call: 0906 585 4516

Taurus April 21st-May 21st

New friends make for a happier Taurus. However, you seem to have the typical midweek madness back in your life with a vengeance and even the simplest of jobs, such as doing the shopping, picking up the kids or getting to work on time will be thrown into disarray. If you don't laugh you'll cry so try to keep a mirthful spirit. Give me a ring now to make sense of issues both personal and professional.

Call: 0906 585 4517

Gemini May 22nd-June 21st

Work responsibilities are proving too much for you and you may want to think about delegating as your stars show that others are willing to share your load. You have been busy doing nothing and it's time to get stuck in or you will miss out on the excellent opportunities that your chart is presenting to you. Call my starline now for the low-down on love and romance in full.

Call: 0906 585 4518

Cancer June 22nd-July 23rd

With the confidence you are exuding you can achieve the impossible. All you have to do now is to decide where your priorities lie and, more importantly, with whom as your chance to excel makes this a week you will not forget in a hurry. A new face in your career is set to become a very important part of your future. Call now to find out the real story behind those rumours currently circulating.

Call: 0906 585 4519

Leo July 24th-August 23rd

You spent so long last month trying to get focus on your life and now that you actually want privacy you can't seem to get a moment alone. There is plenty of time for you to enjoy the romance that is on offer, but you may want to get your work done first, which is looking more and more interesting by the hour. Phone now to hear whose bossiness is becoming a problem and how best to handle it.

Call: 0906 585 4520

Virgo August 24th-September 23rd

Use Wednesday to sort out those issues from last week. Don't let a setback in work this week put you off of your intended goal. There is much you can do to enhance your reputation by showing how well you can manage in a crisis. Don't borrow what you know you can't pay back, no matter how much it may impress a certain person. Call me now for news on upcoming family issues.

Call: 0906 585 4521

Libra September 24th-October 23rd

Strange circumstances could see you having to give up some of your private space this week, but just try to make the best of an awkward situation. Family proves trying but things you do for them this week will not be forgotten. In fact they could be the key to you getting back on an even keel. Call my starline now to find out about a new and very exciting admirer.

Call: 0906 585 4522

Scorpio October 24th-November 22nd

Why don't you sit down and work out the issues that are responsible for this change of pace your life has recently adopted? Your stars indicate that a solution is far easier to find than you think. Happy times for many of you Scorpios link to Pisceans who seem to know just what to say to impress you. Call now to find out which new face is set to have a dramatic effect on your heart.

Call: 0906 585 4523

Sagittarius November 23rd-December 21st

Jupiter, your ruling planet, is helping you to realise some pretty major dreams that you have. There are a lot of rumours going around at the moment so try to act on fact and not fiction and you can avoid any unnecessary problems. Make sure you back up your work on this day too if you use a computer, mistakes are likely. Phone now to take back control of your future.

Call: 0906 585 4524

Capricorn December 22nd-January 20th

Don't let down friends this week, no matter how attractive a certain face may seem, they are relying on you far more than you think and when you see the company they are keeping you'll be glad you made the effort. Older family members prove trying as they try to tell you how to live your life. Stand your ground my friend. Call my starline now for news on lucky breaks in business.

Call: 0906 585 4525

Aquarius January 21st-February 19th

Familiar faces may not give you the support they had once pledged so be prepared to make alternate arrangements. This is one week where you must take full responsibility for work and personal issues. But you know the saying, if a job is worth doing then it is worth doing well, so make your recent effort count. Overseas links promise an exciting future. Call now for news in full.

Call: 0906 585 4526

Pisces February 20th-March 20th

Work is proving harder to get through of late but making that 'personal' call to find out where you stand can give you clarity. Don't make more of a mix up in work than is necessary, you could end up stepping on some very important toes if you do. Jupiter allows you to complete things in double quick time, so take full advantage. Call me now to find out what secrets may soon come to light.

Bristow & Sutor
Civil Enforcement Agents

Bartleet Road
Washford
Redditch
Worcs.
B98 0FL

Committed to raising the image of the enforcement profession, Bristow & Sutor is one of the leading civil enforcement agencies, providing certificated bailiff services to Local Authorities and Commercial Landlords throughout England and Wales.
We believe in teamwork and a high standard of service by talented, trained professionally qualified and enthusiastic personnel.
Training will be provided to successful candidates. We are now seeking individuals who share our vision and dedication to customer service.

TRAINEE VAN/UTILITY BAILIFFS
We are looking for serious minded individuals with commanding characters and a desire to work hard in difficult circumstances.
Collecting local taxes within England and Wales, you will be face-to-face with debtors at their premises to seize assets, collect monies, negotiate payment plans or remove goods.
Experience in a relevant field is preferred, but if you have a skill set which includes the ability to overcome objections whilst remaining focussed and self-motivated this position may be suitable for you.
You will, by nature, be confident, persuasive and decisive, with the ability to learn quickly and conform to codes of practice.
This role will involve working some unsocial hours and entail some overnight stays away from home, dependant on workloads.
Training is provided and the potential remuneration for successful candidates is excellent.

To download an application pack immediately please visit us at: www.bristowsutor.co.uk and select the Careers Page, alternatively you can contact the Personnel Department on 01527 504007 or email via careers@bristowsutor.co.uk Previous applicants need not apply.

We are an Equal Opportunities Employer, all applications will be considered on the basis of suitability, regardless of age, sex, religion, marital status or disability.

We operate a Non Smoking Policy.

Runners battle to be in town cross team

Some of the best young runners in Burnley battled through for the honour of representing the town in the Lancashire Schools' Cross Country Championship on a day of high quality at Towneley Park.

Athletes from five of the town's schools, Hameldon, Shuttleworth, Blessed Trinity, Unity and Sir John Thursby, took to the course in a series of races. with the top eight in each going through to run for the town next February.

One up-and-coming runner expected to make it through to the showpiece was Natalya Irvine.

And she didn't disappoint as the Unity pupil, the granddaughter of Burnley FC legend Willie Irvine, won the Year 7 girls race in some style.

Irvine led home Blessed Trinity's Zara Preedy and Shuttleworth's Megan Robinson.

The Year 7 boys race was won by Harvey McAden, from Blessed Trinity, as he saw off the determined challenge of Oliver Craglan (Unity) and Shuttleworth runner Richard Redfearn.

Blessed Trinity's Tiernan Crorken won the Year 8 and 9 boys race as he edged out schoolmate Jordan Isherwood with Shuttleworth's Devon Preston in third, while Unity's Alice Pier came out on top in the Year 8 and 9 girls event.

She beat Blessed Trinity duo Lucy Cole and Aimee Gorton.

The Year 10 and 11 boys race was dominated by Blessed Trinity athletes.

Callum Davidson took first place, while the school's Conor Barrow and Liam Hall were second and third.

In a remarkable race for the school, Marcus Preedy was fourth and Jake Townsend (sixth) and Jack Reynolds (eighth) ensured that Burnley will be represented in the finals in that event by six boys from the school.

There was more success for Blessed Trinity in the Year 10 and 11 girls race as they completed another one-two.

Teegan Pennington won with Danielle Parkinson second, while Shuttleworth's Jodie Sutcliffe was third.

Sutcliffe will be joined in the team for the finals by her schoolmates Velda Hople and Olivia Phillips with Amy Moran and Beth Quin of Sir John Thursby making up the top eight.

Great start for Clarets boss

New Burnley boss Sean Dyche celebrated kicking off his Turf Moor reign with three points against Wolves, thanks to goals from Martin Paterson and top scorer Charlie Austin in either half.

In addition, the Clarets became only the second team this season to prevent Stale Solbakken's men from scoring.

And Dyche, 41, called for at least the same level of performance when they lined up for the second of three games in his first full week at the helm, against Leeds United last night.

"It's relentless in the Championship, but everyone knows that," said Dyche.

Of the win, he added: "It was a little bit fraught at the end, they were throwing everything in there by that stage. But it is a great feeling. The biggest thing I play for is to win. I played like that as a player.

"Sometimes you have to do it by hook or crook, which we probably did second half, but that's a quality that can't be underestimated – that ability to win a game when it's not quite going right for you."

Dyche added: "I think a clean sheet is important and gives everyone a good mentality to build on.

"The defenders have spoken about it. The back four were excellent at times. There are still little things that need tidying up but, in general, they were excellent."

Squads in chase for Youth Cup

Five East Lancashire football teams will be looking to make it through to round five of the LFA Furness Building Society U18s Youth Cup on Sunday.

Ossie St Mary's entertain North Chadderton, while Ramsbottom United Juniors and Padiham both have home advantage against Thornton Cleveleys Juniors and Atherton Town respectively.

Burnley United go to Burscough Dynamo.

In the Rigby Taylor U16s Youth Cup, Whalley Juniors play Lammack Juniors.
